

OCTOBER IS MAGIC MONTH!

October 1 – Magic Month kicks off with John Sherwood. Magician, mentalist, and graduate of the Chavez Studio of Magic, Sherwood promises an entertaining performance. A noted writer on magic, Sherwood wrote columns for Abbott's Magic Company's The New Tops magazine, and Vibrations – the publication of the Psychic Entertainers Association. Expect plenty of surprises.

October 8 – Join AMM as we present some home-grown magic talent. Magicians from the Marshall area will be on hand to demonstrate their wonders of illusion and sleight-of-hand. 1 p.m.

October 15 – Master storyteller Dick Strader will present stories of magic and wisdom. Join Strader as he presents enthusiastic tellings of intriguing trickster characters and other folktales from many world cultures. Enter the magical world of folklore where animals talk, humans do the unexpected, and nothing is really what it seems. 1 p.m.

October 22 – Camp Abracadabra magicians return to AMM. This past summer saw the museum host two highly successful magic camps. Several of the students will return on October 22nd to demonstrate the tricks they learned at the camp, and maybe even a few new ones. 1 p.m.

October 29 – Join us as we view the All-City Children's Costume Parade. Young people and adults are invited to walk through downtown and show off their Halloween costumes. Ghosts, goblins and other participants will meet at City Hall for the 11 a.m. start of the parade. The Children's Costume Parade is sponsored by the Marshall Firefighters Association.
